This image is a scan of a page from an antique catalog. The page features several illustrations of furniture and home goods, each accompanied by a detailed description and a price. At the top left is a small refrigerator. Next to it is a large double-door refrigerator with a central door. To the right is a tall, narrow cabinet or mirror. Below these are two more pieces of furniture, one with a decorative base and another with a large rectangular panel. The text describes the items, their materials, and their prices. The overall layout is organized and typical of early 20th-century commercial printing.
